Ashtabula County Educational Service Center Business Advisory Council (ACESC BAC)

INTRODUCTION

In today's economy, it is critical that Ohio schools prepare all students with the knowledge and skills they need to succeed in future learning, careers and life. Parents, educators and the business community want to prepare students for successful career paths, whether those include college degrees, industry credentials, apprenticeships, military enlistment or a combination of these. Businesses are important partners who can help shape the educational experiences of all students in Ohio schools. Businesses can partner with schools to share news about job trends and opportunities, as well as economic changes that will affect jobs. They can play a role in district curriculum development and help create new opportunities for students, such as work-based learning experiences.

To help build relationships between businesses and schools, Ohio law (Ohio Revised Code section 3313.82) requires every school district and educational service center (ESC) to have a business advisory council. Recently, the Ohio General Assembly enacted Ohio Revised Code (ORC) section 3313.821 (as part of Am. Sub H.B. 49) which directs the superintendent of public instruction, in consultation with the governor's executive workforce board, to develop standards for the operation of business advisory councils established by the boards of education of school districts or the governing boards of ESCs throughout the state.

Under this Ohio law, each school district board of education must have a BAC. The law allows districts to enter into an agreement with their ESC to have the ESC's Business Advisory Council represent the businesses of the district.

All school districts served by the Ashtabula County ESC agreed that the ESC's business advisory council may act as their business advisory council.

BACKGROUND

The Ashtabula County economy has been changing for decades. Today, it is more complex, diversified and demanding than it was just a generation ago. Once upon a time, students could choose to go to college or take any number of jobs at local companies straight out of high school. Their choices were relatively straightforward. Then, seemingly suddenly, the global economy and rapidly changing technology upended all the rules and expectations. Major companies closed their doors, while jobs evaporated, changed and shifted.

Our region has been amazingly resilient, and it is rebounding. Existing companies are creating new jobs, and our community is attracting new businesses. But today's job opportunities are different and, by no means, guaranteed. Many of these companies share an urgent need for skilled workers. They are making decisions about their future in our community based on the availability of a qualified and well-educated workforce.

As a community, we are excited that many young people will choose to earn a college degree. We support these graduates' goals and aspirations. But a 4-year degree is not the only valid plan after high school. Locally, many of our most in-demand, living-wage jobs require an associate's degree or certificate. But, noble and rewarding as these career choices are, too often they're not being highlighted at home or in our schools.

It is our job to change that conversation. We must support all of our students' career plans and provide exciting and rewarding options that allow all young people to succeed at work.

The challenge of the Ashtabula County ESC Business Advisory Council is to identify current connections and create new meaningful connections between our local industries that are creating the jobs of the future, and our schools that are educating the workforce of the future. The goal is that together we will help our students make informed educational decisions that prepare them for careers in local industries.

ESTABLISH A BAC TO:

Ensure our workforce can compete by enhancing partnerships between schools, higher education and employers

- Ensuring student success and career-readiness
- Helping existing and new businesses thrive
- Keeping talent in our region
- Making Ashtabula County a great place to live and work

PURPOSE:

Business advisory councils foster cooperation among schools, businesses and the communities they serve. This work ensures that the work of educators aligns with the needs of businesses. This cooperation can make a local education system more aware of the local labor market; promote work based experiences within businesses; and help students prepare for successful learning and employment opportunities.

VISION:

All ACESC BAC member district students are career-focused and have the preparation they need to succeed on the job and in life.

MISSION:

The mission of the ACESC BAC is to foster cooperation among our member schools, business and the communities they serve to make our education system more aware of the local labor market, promote work-based experiences within businesses; and help students prepare for successful learning and employment opportunities.

GOAL:

The goal is that together we will help our students make informed educational decisions that prepare them for careers in local industries.

OBJECTIVES

1. To provide advice to local school districts on changes in the economy and job market in an effort to identify which jobs will most likely be available to students.
2. To provide feedback on the employment skills most critical to business and industry at the local level.
3. To advocate for the inclusion of the identified employment skill in the development of curriculum.
4. To aid and support local school districts by offering suggestions for developing a working relationship among educators, business and labor organizations.

REQUIREMENTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Business Advisory Council's responsibilities under 3313.82 include advising and providing recommendations on the delineation of employment skills and the development of curriculum to instill these skills; on changes in the economy and in the job market, and the types of employment in which future jobs are most likely to be available; on suggestions for developing a working relationship among businesses, labor organizations and educational personnel. We will accomplish this task by providing our meeting minutes and statements describing our recommendations to the local boards of education. This plan will be revised and updated annually. The BAC will plan quarterly meetings.

ACTIVITIES:

Promote community engagement and outreach.

Annual review of the activities in our comprehensive database of current school based/employer based activities that are occurring in our county.

Create awareness of the activities and best practices in each of the school districts and with local employers.

Continue to review reported best practices from other Business Advisory Councils in the state to determine feasibility and duplication of the practice.

Connect with various grant funding projects and programs to assist with our goals and activities.

Review the following with our members to learn of best practices and ideal business advisory councils:

- BAC Strategies That Work! Building Successful Business Advisory Councils: Virtual Event

The Office of Graduate Success and the Ohio Tech Prep Regional Centers brought together education, business and industry partners to explore smart strategies and emerging ideas to build successful Business Advisory Councils That Work!

- 2022 Business-Education Leader Awards for Excellent Business Advisory Councils

Watch Lt. Governor Jon Husted and Interim Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Stephanie Siddens recognize the 2021-2022 recipients of Ohio's Business-Education Leader Awards for Excellent Business Advisory Councils.

Review the new legislation regarding allowing the joint vocational schools/our career technical center to represent our school districts as their council. Our local center has long term established business/industry/school advisory councils in our county. We will review the option of entering into a memorandum of understanding with the schools to form this partnership with our career center.

Move toward establishing awareness and adoption of the Ohio Means Jobs Readiness Seal in our county.
